Big Game Hunts

All year long, best period April - November

The hunting area is situated at about three hours and a half from Darwin in the south of Australia. There is a ranch of 50.000 hectares there that borders for 90 km with the famous national park Kakadù. The hunting grounds are predominantly level, with the Australian vegetation and with various types of game: Water Buffalo, Banteng, Russa Deer, Axis Deer, Sambar Deer, Hogdeer, Black Antelope and many Wild Boars.

Accommodation is in the lodge at the ranch from where hunters start off for the hunt. The use of the very good rifles of the reserve is recommended so as not to bother bringing one's own weapons to Australia; the use of weapons of the reserve is free.
