Big Wild Boar Driven Hunts

September 1 – April 15

The hunting ground is in a private reserve "Cesma" which is situated at about 40 minutes drive from Zagreb. The reserve consists of 8000 hectares of Slavonian oak woods out of which 650 hectares are fenced. In the midst of the reserve there is a beautiful hunting lodge with 20 beds in single and double rooms. The concentration of wild boar is very high. Deer are found in large numbers here also. Three or four driven hunts are organized daily. Hunters shoot from blinds raised from the ground in order to avoid all the risks that this type of hunting could cause. Each hunter will have his/her own personal assistant who will point out the animals to shoot. The organization requests not to shoot at adult females. The quality of the male wild boars is exceptional; one can very easily harvest a gold medal in a driven hunt also. The biggest harvested specimen last year had tusks up to 33 cm long!
