Partridge driven hunt

October 1 – February 20

The hunting ground is Ossa de Montiel (Albacete) in the heart of La Mancha, the best hunting area for partridge in Spain. The terrain is a low highland with river beds, where shooting stations are situated. The hunt is done with a group of expert drivers with many years of experience. Drives are organized with a minimum of 300 partridges per day and per group. From 5 to 12 hunters can hunt at the same time. Each hunter has his/her own Secretario and rifle charger. 4 to 5 different drives are organized per day, with sack lunch and the possibility to harvest up to 2000 partridges per day. The partridges live in complete freedom and they fly high and fast.

Lodging is provided in a rural hotel 10 minutes away from the hunting ground, where the hunter can enjoy the typical cuisine of the area. Transfer from Madrid or Valencia airport to the hunting ground is provided by hunting ground's vehicles.
